A short drive from the Lemitar Truck Stop, but the scenic trail has a little bit of everything. Rocky roads, sandy arroyos, narrow squeezes and a couple of moderate rock climbs. A locked gate in the canyon forces a U-turn to return for a different view on the way out.

Once out of the canyon and in the arroyo, an alternative road to the south goes through a visible corral and down to the Kelly arroyo and canyon. This remains a working ranch and the gates through the ranch to the Kelly Road exit or along the arroyo may be open or locked depending on ranch operations.
